

Vorstudie für eine Studiengruppe "Migration, minorities and maternity services: an international collaboration across three contrasting countries"

Initiative: Zukunftsfragen der Gesellschaft (beendet)

Ausschreibung: Migration + Gesundheit

Bewilligung: 13.05.2008

Laufzeit: 6 Monate

The Study Group will examine how migration and consequent ethno-cultural diversity have been problematized and responded to within the health systems of Germany, the United Kingdom and Canada. The focus is on maternity services and reproductive outcomes. Preliminary work will establish a conceptual framework that has pertinence to the three countries of focus, a methodological approach with particular attention to achieving meaningful comparison and operational feasibility across settings, as well as an operational structure that enables both inter-disciplinary and cross-national collaboration and active involvement of policy-makers, practitioners and users/consumers.

Projektbeteiligte

Dr. Sarah Maria Salway

Sheffield Hallam University
Faculty of Health & Wellbeing
Centre for Health & Social Care Research
Sheffield
Grossbritannien